

Assessment, Marking and Feedback

Learning and Teaching Services

Duration: 5 weeks

Mode(s) of delivery: Online

Live Sessions: Throughout the course, there will be weekly live sessions which will be recorded for those who are unable to attend.

Workload: 15 hours over a 5-week period

Introduction

This course focuses on the issues for teachers in supporting student learning in the marking and provision of feedback on assessment. The course draws on the literature around assessment, marking and feedback and has a practical focus for teachers involved in learning and teaching. The content, structure, activities and design of the course engages participants in an action learning approach to reflect on their practices around supporting students during assessment, and in marking and providing feedback. The intention is that teachers are able to take back strategies and understandings that will help them with their practice.

At the conclusion of the course, participants who have met specified requirements will receive a Certificate of Completion.

Learning Outcomes

On successful completion of this course, participants will be able to:

- Describe their role as an educator in relation to managing assessment and providing feedback
- Discuss the main issues involved in assessment, marking and feedback
- Develop strategies to improve marking and feedback practice
- Discuss the range of technologies that support assessment in the online environment, including Turnitin
- Engage in, and contribute to a shared community of practice

Learning and Teaching Process

Participants will use a range of learning technologies during the course, which will be facilitated within Navitas Core Moodle as well as Zoom (for live sessions). Participants are required to have regular access to the Internet. A webcam and headset microphone is also required for live sessions.

Participants

The course is aimed at teaching and related staff who are new to teaching online or blended environments, or, experienced teaching staff who would like to improve the effectiveness of their existing online teaching practice. The course is a professional development activity available to all staff within Navitas.

Weekly Study Pattern

Participants are expected to commit a minimum of 15 hours over the 5-week period. During the course, participants will engage in individual and group activities which will include discussions, submitting material for feedback and providing feedback to other participants.

It is expected that participants will be actively engaging in activities each week of the course.
